

The U.S. Department of Education has provided guidance to universities for the distribution of emergency cash grants to college students whose lives and educations have been disrupted by the coronavirus pandemic. These grants will be funded by a $13 billion Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund created by the recently passed CARES Act. The grants will provide emergency funds for students for their expenses related to the disruption of campus operations due to coronavirus, such as course materials and technology.

Chattahoochee Tech is currently working on a plan and application process for students for when the Federal Government disburses funds to our institution.
